

FINAL ROUND INTERVIEW: DEREK FATHAUER
Sunday, November 15, 2015

Q. The delays today, how difficult it is to keep prepared mentally and physically?

DEREK FATHAUER: Yeah, a bunch of stop and go out there, but it wasn't too bad. It was easy to stay warmed up. Just a matter of when we're going to go. We had plenty of time to warm up so it wasn't really an issue.

Q. What's the course like right now? I mean, it's taken a lot of rain?

DEREK FATHAUER: Pretty spotty out there, yeah. There hasn't been a lot of traffic on the course so it still looks good, but it's pretty wet.

Q. Just how you felt getting off to the start that you did? Was it a little tough to get your legs under you?

DEREK FATHAUER: Yeah, I feel like I've done just about -- I'm playing the same way as I have all week and I've just burnt the edge on like every putt today. It's just the way it goes sometimes. Hopefully come out, make a birdie or eagle on that par 5 and maybe make a little noise in the morning
