
Q. Jordan Spieth, you're 4 under par, the FedExCup No. 1. You still have one more day left. What kind of mindset are you taking into the final round?

JORDAN SPIETH: Unfortunately, I'm not really in control of my own destiny at this point, but I'll go out tomorrow, try and shoot a really solid round of golf and then do some cheerleading. That's kind of the plan tomorrow.

Q. But anything can happen, you've gone out there, you've gone low, you could pull something like that out. Is that in the back of your mind?

JORDAN SPIETH: Yeah, sure. If I focus on the lead and try and get to that, that's the easiest way for me to shoot a low round, to feel like I'm chasing something versus trying to obviously back in or scoreboard watch. So we'll see what the lead is. It will probably be about 10 or 11 under. It will be 12 most likely by the end of the day. So if I can go out tomorrow and shoot a 5, 6 under round, it will be a fantastic round of golf and make up a lot of ground.

Q. Do you think to yourself I'm not just working for this week but I've got to maybe correct some things for next week, too, because you still have the Presidents Cup?

JORDAN SPIETH: Yeah, I'm looking forward -- I'll take Monday off. I'm looking forward to a day without golf. I'm going to give it all I've got tomorrow and then really take it easy in preparation until maybe Wednesday and then make whatever adjustments are necessary. I'm not far off. I've just made some pretty, you know, just some bad mistakes trying to do too much and I've really gotten a lot of putts lipping out. It's been one of those weeks. So I don't feel like there's a whole lot to adjust but certainly minor tweaks.

Q. Jordan Spieth showed up at East Lake this morning with his regular grit and determination ready to go. As you look back at your 69, are you satisfied?

JORDAN SPIETH: You know, I was 2 over through 11 holes and I missed about a three-footer for birdie on the 12th and I really could have -- I could be at 1 or 2 over for the tournament right now pretty easily and did a great job of keeping myself in the FedExCup Race and really in a solid tumor. I know that I'm capable of going low on this golf course, it's a matter of hitting fairways, it's a matter of getting the ball in the hole on the putting green and neither one of those has been a strength this week unfortunately but one day to go. Been playing really well the second half of this season, it would be a great way to cap it off.

Q. If you break down where your game is right now, what are you comfortable with and maybe what are you concerned with?

JORDAN SPIETH: I feel really good about anywhere mid iron, short iron, wedge play. My putting's been the one thing that this week has really let me down on greens I'm very comfortable with. So I'm reading them correctly, just not matching line and speed and feeling that comfortable with it from the first round on. Been searching. I took the putter home, slept with it last night, tried to find anything I could with it and wasn't quite there today, either. All it takes is a couple to go in and then it starts to -- the hole starts to look big, and I know that as well as anybody, so stay confident tomorrow.

Q. And finally quickly jump to tomorrow, this is the tournament within a tournament, top 6 finish by you, you still may have a realistic shot of winning the FedExCup. Mentally, how do you approach this final round?

JORDAN SPIETH: I'll set a goal for tomorrow and I won't scoreboard watch at all. I'll get done with the round and then see what kind of cheerleading I've got to do. That's kind of what it comes down to.

Last week we had a great goal of trying to shoot 6 under on Sunday. I went out and was 6 under through 15 holes and finished par-par-par. It's more difficult to do on this course but I've just got to get off to a better start. I've been over par in my first few holes every single round in this. It's just so difficult to really get it deeper than 3 under par if you start over par in a round, there's just too many challenging holes here. So I'm looking for a better start tomorrow.
