

CAM DAVIS (-10)

Q. Cam, I guess just talk about a solid round after -- for you in three of your best rounds so far.

CAM DAVIS: Yeah, today was really solid. I mean, it was a nice bounce-back from yesterday where I felt like for the first, at least the first few holes I feel like I completely lost my swing, I had no idea where it went. On the back got some good stuff going yesterday afternoon and then brought it into today and made some putts with it today as well. A little sour end there with a wedge, but 17 really good solid holes. But I'm not on the number anymore, I've kind of worked my way back into the middle of the pack somewhere, which is nice.

Q. I mean, birdie on 18, you could have tied the round record. Was that in your head at all?

CAM DAVIS: No. I was just trying to hit a good solid number into the green and give myself a putt for birdie and just hit a little bit thin and that's just the last thing you want to do there. It's just annoying, but my head space was clear and good, I was just one shot at a time like everyone says, so it's all good.

Q. And you had a good hole before that on 17. I'm sure you felt good about that shot out of the rough to get on the green and save birdie?

CAM DAVIS: It was a pretty poor second shot, but a good lie in the rough and the opportunity to be able to stop it. Yeah, so that was good, that kept the momentum going. I'll try not to look at 18 as too much of a hinderance to my progress because today was a really solid day.

Q. You were in a really tough group yesterday with Tony and those other guys. Just talk about how the competition has increased this year.

CAM DAVIS: Well, I'm playing with Tony, who's obviously come off a win last week and playing really well, and Nate, who's played well here a couple of years ago or three years ago now. They both have a lot of game and were playing really well. It was just a windy afternoon yesterday following the really calm morning of Thursday, which it felt like this morning, to be honest. It felt like it was perfect scoring conditions. And playing with someone like Tony, who's playing really well and making the most of his opportunities, it kind of showed you what you could do around here. But his golf in the wind yesterday afternoon was really solid. I was trying to make some putts to catch the cut line and he was making putts to go for the lead and it seemed like he had a bit more freedom than Nate and I did, which probably helped him keep moving forward while we were struggling to get anything to go in.

Q. And what specific adjustments did you make between yesterday and today?

CAM DAVIS: Just more of a relaxing round. You're playing in the morning, the greens are smoother, there's no wind, you pick your number. If you hit it solid, you know where it's going to go rather than being left up to the wind above the trees that you can't really feel. Today was just a little bit more relaxed on the greens. I wasn't trying to make a putt to hopefully make the cut on the number, it was just trying and make some progress and have a good round. Yeah, it just worked a lot better than it did yesterday.
