

BRANDON WU (-6)

Q. Brandon, how would you characterize your round today?

BRANDON WU: I think everything was pretty solid. Chipped well, putted well, hit it pretty straight for the most part, so yeah, I was really pleased with that.

Q. Maybe what was the one key that really you felt was working so well for you?

BRANDON WU: I think making putts. That's kind of been I felt like what held me back the last few weeks a little bit because I've been hitting it really nice, so finally getting some putts to go was nice.

Q. Anything that you've worked on with your putting maybe to get it sparked a little bit?

BRANDON WU: I switched putters this week, so maybe that was part of it. Yeah, I think just getting back to focusing on your speed. The greens are pretty quick out here, so you've got to be really dialed in with how hard you're hitting it. I think maybe a combination of that. The greens are super pure this week, so it's been good.

Q. Just a different looking putter or similar or different -- what's so different about the putter?

BRANDON WU: Yeah, so I've been using a 009 blade from Scotty Cameron for probably the last few years. Yeah, finally went to a mallet this week. I feel like it's been a little bit easier to line up, just looks a little bit more square. That's something I kind of, last few weeks if it doesn't look super square, that's something I'm still thinking about over the putt and now that's gone and I'm just focused on hitting it at the right speed.

Q. We're here at the final event of the regular season. What do you take away from your rookie season on Tour this year?

BRANDON WU: Yeah, I think it's been a lot of ups and downs, for sure. I think I missed nine out of my first 10 cuts out here, which was definitely not the start that I had dreamed of being a rookie on the PGA TOUR, but really happy with how it's kind of turned around, and playing better. Yeah, hope to finish the season strong.

Q. Last question, how do you feel from the start of the season to now that you've matured or changed as a golfer, maybe even as a person a little bit?

BRANDON WU: Yeah, I think when I was first kind of starting to play PGA Tour events, Collin and I played a practice round. He said his biggest advice was just to be comfortable and I think that still resonates with me. It's being comfortable with everything, being comfortable with not hitting it your best and still being able to score, being comfortable with the crowds watching, the difficulty of the golf courses. It's been a big learning experience this whole entire year, but yeah, I started to feel a little bit more comfortable and I think it's starting to play dividends.
