

ROUND 3 INTERVIEW
February 11, 2023

RICHARD GREEN (-3)

Q. OK, Richard, so you win Q-School, you're currently potentially could be runner-up. The emotions of the debut as a PGA TOUR Champions winner here in Morocco, how does -- just your overall playing?

RICHARD GREEN: It feels awesome. It feels like a long career and maybe some deserved results around this course. I came here for a long time with the European Tour and played. Never really played that well, but had some tough days and I feel like this week has been a bit of a reward for patience. Kind of understanding the course a little bit early on in the week, that it was a golf course that you needed to just hang in there. I just took that attitude all week to just hang in there, don't let it get to me and keep playing steady golf and as many pars as possible, and if an opportunity came, happy to grab it. So as a result, 3 under at the end of the week, it's a testament to a really tough test.

Q. How do you just, starting the year off this fantastically, how do you carry this into next week at Chubb?

RICHARD GREEN: Yeah, it's confidence building. I tend to build confidence in my game through results, not necessarily hitting balls on the range. Get a certain amount of confidence out of that, but the results are what really elevate my belief in myself. Just keep rolling it, like hopefully riding the crest of the wave, that's the plan.
