ROUND 2 INTERVIEW

May 19, 2023

WILSON FURR (-10)

Q. Wilson, 1 under today, 10 under through two rounds, atop the leaderboard at the moment. How much of a grind was it with the weather?

WILSON FURR: Yeah, it was hard out there today, for sure. It started raining on hole 1 and it hadn't stop yet. Yeah, it was a grind, but I'm pleased with the way I played, kind of fought hard.

Q. What specifically for you is the biggest annoyance or difficulty playing in weather like this?

WILSON FURR: Just like the cluster of everything, I think. Like you're having to put your glove on the umbrella, then you've got to put the umbrella away. Then I switched the jacket on, switched the jacket off. Just the cluster of it all. And the fact that it's freezing and raining doesn't help either. Yeah, I'd say that's the worst part. And you have 200 yards into holes that I had 120 yards into yesterday, so that sucks, too. That sucks.

Q. But that's it, everything else --

WILSON FURR: Other than that, it's spectacular.

Q. Yesterday you said a few times that you kind of felt like your back was against the wall like mentally and you had to -- you bounced back, starting to play well. Is there a difficulty keeping that mentality for you?

WILSON FURR: No, no, it's just trickier getting it kicked in, I think. But no, it's pretty simple actually. I know what I've got to do and I'm going to go do it.

Q. How do you stay patient out there when this is a round that you just want to get done, just want to go inside and be done with it?

WILSON FURR: Yeah, you have to give yourself some pep talks. There's no way around that because, I mean, I bogeyed two, like on 13 and 14, and then 15 was just a brutal hole. Yeah, you just have to give yourself some pep talks and just find warmth wherever you can. Wherever I had my jacket on, that's what I called home base today. I was trying to get in my jacket as much as possible. Yeah, there's not much else you can do.

Q. In your approach to like with your game, I mean do you and your caddie on a day like this have just a different game plan? I mean, how are you approaching -- like you said, you had 200 yards today versus what you had yesterday. How do you switch like that?

WILSON FURR: My metaphor is like I watch a decent bit of F1, like the racing. When it starts raining there, they put on the rain tires because they have to ride differently. So it's like you have to kind of keep the ball down, you can't be slinging drivers, it will slip off the face. A lot of 3-woods and just a lot of just pepper in the center of the green if you can and hope your lag putting's on for the day. So I just spent some time on the speed before the round because I knew it was going to be a tough one.
