

ROUND 2 QUICK QUOTES
June 6, 2025

PIERCESON COODY (-14)

Q. Pierceson, start with the triple on No. 4 there and how you were able to kind of bounce back with a lot of birdies and a couple eagles out there.

PIERCESON COODY: Yeah, I started the round really nice the first three holes, I hit it good. I had some -- I had a tap-in birdie and then two putts inside 10 feet for birdie that I didn't make. So I knew I was hitting it well.

And then kind of had just a disaster of a hole, made triple. Then kind of picked up where I left off of just having short putts for birdie. Then I ran in a couple long ones in the middle of the round to string together a real long stretch, and a couple of those were for eagle. And then yeah, it just -- I missed a few from short range but I made three or so outside 30 feet, which was really nice.

Q. Is this kind of similar how your game's been? You've had really strong results out here. Has it been a lot of ball-striking, maybe not always the putts falling, or what's it kind of been like?

PIERCESON COODY: Yeah, it's kind of in the middle. I've had consistent results. I haven't had like the really good rounds where I avoid some of the big mistakes. I feel like my game's been in a really similar spot all year, I've just really got to find a way to clean up the big ones. Each tournament feels like I've had one or two holes throughout the tournament that's kind of derailed some momentum and whatnot.

Yeah, I mean the ball's staying in front of me and I'm making some putts from range. I just need to clean up some stuff, just be a little bit cleaner and it will go my way.

Q. Is there something that you can point -- that you kind of notice that maybe leads to those big scores or is it kind of different each time?

PIERCESON COODY: Yeah, I wish it was like a super consistent, like a right miss off the tee or whatever like that. But I've had just some -- the triple I made today was with a 7-iron from the first cut, it was just a really bad golf swing. Then I came back on it.

I don't know, I'm trying to make the best decision I can every single time, every shot, so I'm not going to stop trying to do that. Just add 'em up at the end and see where I am.

Q. Is there any mental hurdle for you when you kind of have one of those blow-up holes and you know you have to bounce back when there's still a lot of holes to go?

PIERCESON COODY: Yeah, I mean, it's almost -- it's almost easy to do it knowing that I had to make a lot of birdies. I went from a few over the cut to three outside the cut or something like that, two or three outside the cut. The mental hurdle was just to be as aggressive as I can but playing smartly, hitting the ball in the right places. So I mean maybe the triple in hindsight was good for me because I just put the pedal down and just went.

Q. You played Thornblade yesterday, going back there for the weekend. I guess what does it kind of take to put up a good score at that course?

PIERCESON COODY: Yeah, out there any ball in the fairway is a birdie hole. If I'm getting a ton of balls in the fairway, keeping it in front of me every hole out there's a birdie hole and you can go rattle off some really good scores out there.

Q. You've been splitting time between here and the PGA TOUR. Just what's been kind of your plan for this season, just taking starts on the PGA TOUR when you get 'em or what's been --

PIERCESON COODY: I kind of made the decision to focus out here. I got into Canada on Tuesday morning and withdrew from the list, the alternate list. That kind of cemented my decision to stick out here.

I have, including this event, 13 guaranteed starts and I'm in a decent spot on the points list to know that my good golf is good enough, I've done it before. Going to play the rest of the season out here on the Korn Ferry, and then I'll still get four or five starts out on Tour that won't conflict with the Korn Ferry and I'll take those starts and hopefully can make the most of those as well.
