SOPHIE HAN
OREGON

Q. I'm here with Sophie Han. How important was patience for you out there today and how did you balance staying aggressive versus waiting for the right opportunity?

SOPHIE HAN: (Inaudible) extreme weather just so hard to get birdie chance, all you've got to do is save par and put yourself in the right position and then take (inaudible.) So I just wait for my opponent to make mistakes. I didn't rush and I stick to my own game plan. I think that's the strategy.

Q. Obviously this is really extreme weather conditions. What's the biggest piece of advice or experience that you've gained from this tournament?

SOPHIE HAN: Yeah, just stay patient and also stick to your own game plan no matter what your opponent does (inaudible) play your own game. Yeah, I learned a lot from this kind of extreme weather (inaudible.)

Q. What are you most excited to build on after this tournament?

SOPHIE HAN: I guess I'm just going to work on my short game a little bit more because short game (inaudible) give me a lot of opportunities to save pars (inaudible) birdies sometimes (inaudible). Yeah, I'll probably work on my short game a little bit more for tournaments in the spring.
